Bio

Working for 10 years in diverse Leadership roles for an American corporation within the energy sector, David has experienced first hand the need of science-based, solution-focused coaching to achieve targets and to motivate employees.

With a lead role in a cultural change network, he's supported sustainability projects, developed alternative products on the market and designed Coaching programs for the EMEAF region.

David is also Founder & CEO of a tour operator agency in Prague. This type of business suffered the most in 2020. Through innovation and out-of-the-box thinking, David and his team quickly reorganized the business, becoming the go-to remote team bonding virtual experience for world-leading corporations. Recognized by the New York Times, Forbes and the Wall Street Journal, the tour become a top 3 World Bestseller.

David's solution-focused coaching approach helps teams to thrive in times of crises.
